

TROJANS FOR NEURODIVERSITY

What is Neurodiversity?

Neurodiversity is the concept that humans don't come in a one-size-fits-all neurologically "normal" package. The diversity of human neurocognition is on a spectrum that should be celebrated and supported.

What we Do

Our purpose is to provide support and a safe space for neurodiverse students, such as those on the autism spectrum, and their allies. We aim to build an inclusive community within USC.

Inclusion

We are welcoming of all students no matter race, religion, creed, ethnicity, gender expression, disability, or sexual orientation.
